

RECLAIM

OUR SPACE PLEDGE

We pledge to improve access

Working-class young people have the right to access, use and enjoy public space regardless of their identity or background. We pledge to ensure that our spaces are managed and maintained in a way that meets their needs.

We pledge to provide representation

We will provide meaningful ways for working-class young people to have a say in decisions about our spaces and what happens within them. We will consult and listen, ensuring their voices are heard and represented as equally as adults.

We pledge to prioritise safety

We will prioritise the safety of young people, ensuring extra support and care for young people when in our spaces.

We pledge to understand

We will provide training for our staff and volunteers on how to support working-class young people access, use and enjoy our spaces. We will explore and understand the experiences of working-class young people face and how they relate to our spaces.

We pledge respect

Working-class young people deserve respect, compassion and trust. We commit to welcoming them in our spaces without judgement or stereotyping or assumption.

As part of the 'Our Space' pledge, we commit to building a class-inclusive environment within our organisation and support the five key demands.
